

ATTENTION: CTE EDUCATORS

Upcoming Professional Development You Won't Want to Miss!

CCTS (Center for Change in Transition Services) is offering five upcoming online trainings in their ongoing professional development series designed to:

- ✓ Help students with disabilities find success in CTE
- ✓ Strengthen CTE and Special Ed collaboration
- ✓ Support increased graduation rates and post-school outcomes

These webinars offer participants the opportunity to clarify questions about training materials, discuss practices that are currently in place, and share with peers across the state. Online trainings can be completed by individuals or groups at no cost or for a fee for clock hours through eLearning.

HSBPs: Aligning with IEPs – Tuesday, August 11, 2020, 10 am – 12 pm PDT

Learn how aligning high school and beyond planning with IEP services can successfully support students with disabilities in CTE courses.

T-Folio 101 – Wednesday, August 12, 2020, 10 am – 12 pm PDT

This free, online transition portfolio tool can support students with disabilities in CTE courses with planning for post-secondary employment and success!

Effective Collaboration: Why, What, and How? – Tuesday, August 18, 2020, 10 am – 12 pm PDT

This session will focus on practical strategies to increase collaboration between CTE staff and special educators for student success.

Accommodations 101 – Wednesday, August 19, 2020, 10 am – 12 pm PDT

Learn more about strategies for building accommodations into CTE courses to support students with disabilities.

Finding Your CTE Data – Thursday, September 17, 2020, 3 – 4 pm PDT

Discuss ideas for accessing real-time, district- and building-data to inform CTE programming and supports for students with disabilities.

And much more...

For additional information, visit <https://www.seattleu.edu/ccts/projects/inclusionary-practices/ipp-schedule/>

